The single is a part of the Basterds: Original Motion Picture Soundtrack tribute series, and was pressed with 5,000 copies. One of the tracks is a cover of "Hit Man" by Gary Stadtbrand, which was made famous by the Ramones. "We Are Groovin'", on the other hand, is a song by the titular folk metal band, and is in the vein of traditional country and western music. The title of the song comes from a lyric from the Metallica song of the same name. There are also two promotional videos of a new Metallica song called "Walk." According to the band's official site, all eight songs on the single were written and recorded for the movie and have never before been released. The single is available for pre-order right here.
